It looks like Governor Woodrow Wilson is going to be our next President.

Colonel Roosevelt says that it was ator Lorimer. He says: "it was my fight, and it was my victory."

The Durham Herald says: "We about telling the whole truth.

The Burlington News speaks a truth when it says:

"The lack of town pride, and the lack of civic pride in a body of people unqualifies them for citizenship. To be unable to enthuse over the prospects of growth in your town is enough to read you out of the class of citizenship, To have no care about the sanitary conditions of your town makes one a fee to all others in it. To be incapable of loving the beautiful in your town is a confession that convicts both the training and the nature of the person."

Unearths Spanish Coin Worth $6,500.

Savannah, Ga.-M. Byrd a negro who runs a confectionary place, has unearthed near the old war batteries adjoining Le Pageville about 400 old Spanish coins, the equivalent of about $6,500 in American money.

Dem. coins and that Byrd was merely trying to sell some of them.

One of the coins, an onza, worth about $16 in American money, was bought by John Faus, a traveling man and brother-in-law of F. J. Estave, who was greatly interested in the diecovery, but did not get an opportunity to talk with Byrd. Mr. Esteve examined the coin which Mr. Faus bought and testified as to its worth.

According to Esteve the story which Byrd tells is plausible. The coin which Esteve inspected has a 1782 date and is well preserved. Byrd says most of the coins were about the size of the one he sold to Mr. Faus. Because of their ancient coinage Byrd should get more than the face value of the coins according to Mr. Esteve. It was said that Byrd had really made the find himself and that he two men to mislead any who might lay claim to the gold. Byrd travels through the country districts a great deal, buying bottles, and it is said that while walking near the Le Pageville section some days ago he came across an old coin on the ground with a bright edge showing. Searching closely, he is said to have found about 400 of the coins in a place hollowed out in the ground.
